📌 La dérivation lexicale permet de former des adjectifs à partir de noms ou de verbes. Maîtriser ces suffixes enrichit considérablement le vocabulaire.

1. Suffixes d'adjectifs — à partir de noms

SUFFIXE	EXEMPLES	SENS
-al	nation → national / profession → professional	relatif à
-ful	help → helpful / use → useful / stress → stressful	plein de
-less	use → useless / help → helpless / care → careless	sans
-ous	danger → dangerous / ambition → ambitious	caractérisé par
-ic	energy → energetic / atom → atomic	relatif à
-ical	economy → economical / practice → practical	relatif à (abstrait)
-ive	create → creative / attract → attractive / effect → effective	qui fait / qui produit
-able/-ible	manage → manageable / read → readable	qui peut être
-ary/-ory	element → elementary / satisfy → satisfactory	relatif à

2. -ED vs -ING — ressenti vs cause

Structure	Anglais	Note
-ED	I am bored / exhausted / interested / worried	Décrit comment VOUS vous sentez (effet SUR vous)
-ING	The lecture is boring / exhausting / interesting / worrying	Décrit ce qui PROVOQUE ce sentiment (la cause)

⚠ ERREUR CLASSIQUE : 'I am boring' = je suis ennuyeux (je génère l'ennui). 'I am bored' = je m'ennuie. Ne jamais confondre.

3. Adjectifs composés

STRUCTURE	EXEMPLE
Nombre + nom singulier	a three-year contract / a five-star hotel
Adj + PP	well-known / open-minded / short-sighted / ground-breaking
Nom + adj	world-famous / life-long / home-grown
Adj + adj	red-hot / dark-blue / ice-cold

⚠ Avec un nombre : le nom reste au SINGULIER : 'a three-year contract' (pas 'three-years').

🧠 -ful = plein de (helpful) / -less = sans (helpless) / -ed = tu ressens / -ing = ça provoque. Ne jamais confondre -ed et -ing!
